Color is classification; if present, shape is truth